Trail Answers and Explanatory Notes for parents, teachers and accompanying adults

Children's Answers are in Bold.

Further information is for interest and discussion.

This church, dedicated to St Pancras, was built in the late fourteenth century. The story says that Pancras was born in 290AD at Phrygia, which is in the country we now call Turkey. His parents died when Pancras was 14 and his uncle, Dionysius, took him to Rome where he heard stories about Jesus. He was so impressed that he became a Christian and spoke to people about Jesus, but because many important people in Rome at that time did not believe in Jesus, he was killed. St Pancras is the patron saint of children, cramps, headaches, oaths and treaties. His Saint's Day is 12th May. There may have been a wooden church here in an earlier time. The first known clergyman here was John in 1253.

1 South Porch (entrance).

The angel is saying "Abraham, Abraham". The picture is about the story in the Old Testament part of the Bible about Abraham, one of the very earliest followers of God. He was ordered by God to take Isaac, Abraham's precious only son, to the mountain and sacrifice him on an altar. This was a test set by God to find out how much Abraham really loved and was ready to obey God. Abraham was just about to kill him when an angel suddenly called out to him. "Abraham, Abraham! Stop!" Abraham stopped and listened to the angel who told him that instead of sacrificing his son, God would accept the gift of a goat and that there was one close by. Isaac was set free, and God was pleased that Abraham had shown he was willing to obey God's wishes, no matter what they were. Since then Abraham has been known as "The Father of the Jewish nation."

2 Tower.

The three creatures are sea horses. This is the coat of Arms of the Tucker family of nearby Natsworthy. This stone was to have been included in the pulpit but disappeared mysteriously and many years later was found in the Rectory garden. A few years later it was found in Newton Abbot and brought back to Widecombe. The History Society has restored it to the church.

3 Tower.

It is an old fashioned plough. It digs up the ground in a field so that crops can be sown and grown. The Plough is a symbol of work on the land. The 2nd Sunday in January is Plough Sunday when there is a special service for the Church and Countryside. The Churchwardens wheel the plough to the front of the church where it is blessed.

The plough has two blades which enable the farmer to change direction and plough either up or down the field and still keep the earth turning in the same direction. The plough would be pulled by a working horse, perhaps a shire horse, and directed by the farmer who walks behind the horse holding the handles of the plough.

4 The Font.

The font has 8 sides. It is an octagon.

Water is put into the font when a person is baptised. People are baptised as a sign that they have become members of the Church. The priest either pours water over the person's head or dips his/her finger in the water and makes the sign of a cross on the person's forehead.

5 North Wall.

The animals are Lions. They traditionally symbolise bravery, valour, strength, and royalty, since They are regarded as the king of beasts. The colour is correctly described in heraldry as Gules. Mary Elford died in 1642. Mary was the third wife of John Elford of Sheepstor. In all, John had four wives and their coats of arms are included in this memorial to Mary.

6 War Memorial.

He is holding a book. This may be a picture of Saint Mark. These paintings are thought to date from the 15th century.

An upper part of this screen was removed in the 19th century when it became too rotten to repair.

The goat signifies a scapegoat. Part of Hebrew ritual was that on the Day of Atonement two goats were brought to the priest. By drawing lots one was sacrificed to the Lord while the other was allowed to escape – the scapegoat. The face surrounded by leaves is known as a green man symbolising fertility of the earth. The three hares in a circle are joined together by only three ears. They were originally thought to be rabbits and either an emblem depicting the Holy Trinity (the Christian belief in the unity of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit as three persons in one divine Being), or a badge adopted by the tin miners of Dartmoor (referred to as "tinners rabbits"). Similar emblems can be found in 16 other Devon churches. There is believed to be a connection to early Islamic art with examples to be found in Egypt and Iran.

The missing letter is H. IHS and ihc are the Sacred Monogram and an abbreviation of the Greek word IESOUS (IHSOUS) meaning Jesus. Over many years the letters have been changed to our alphabet. A monogram is initial letters, sometimes entwined, to signify a person's name or title e.g. BVM or IHS.
